WE'RE HAVING A MUSIC FESTIVAL

We have put together a creative brief...

We want to see your take on it. This is not a skills test, simply an opportunity to showcase your ideas. We will choose two winners from entries submitted, to come and spend a week with us in the studio and see how your ideas can one day translate.

What we need from you.

A physical or digital image (poster) or short video. You get to choose the music genre and name the festival. Your submission must include the DCTR logo, our 'Bricky' mascot, event date and time, event location, and a 'call to action'. Please also send a short document explaining your choices & process.

We absolutely love working here - we bet you would love it too. The atmosphere in our studio is largely creative and collaborative, but our clients come first and delivering what they need takes discipline and humility. Up for the challenge? We always want to hear from talented professionals at any stage in their career, and believe that nurturing talent is the responsibility of us all.
